Remarkable Publishing Company Publishes Tobenna Ebubechukwu's New Book, The Storm Is Over

Poetry at its peak, the author of this book The Storm Is Over, purred his heart into the message that lies within the book. These poems are from real life circumstances and not fictional. They are Tobenna's way of saying you are not alone; He has also been there. "From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus". (Galatians 6:17)

Today's trials and stress are not located to a zone but universal. They are not the product of industrialization, known to only those in the fast moving world. They transcend international borders and economic status. The rich and poor alike know them. Worse still they are known to those born in the church and also those who have not yet tasted the saving grace of God. How shall we deal with them? Grace, grace my friend. Pray, trust in God, wait for His deliverance. Do you feel what I am saying?

Glory be to God, the Storm is over. Do you see it? Do you feel it? The relics may still be there, the rubbles may still be on the high tides of the stormy seas but the storm is over. They eyes of faith must see you through when no sensibility can. The hand of faith must hold you when nothing else can. The banner under which you stand must defend you or else it's not worth its weight in gold. But if you don't have one good enough and strong enough to weather the storm, try Tobenna's, Jehovah Nisi. (1 Corinthians 10:13)

As you read, remember "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it".
